

Eccellio announces new “slices” for Web miner

Gardening, Literature and Music have been added in Eccellio Web miner

Bellevue, WA - October 16, 2009 - Eccellio™ today announced that three new slices have been added on Eccellio Web Miner (<http://www.eccellio.com>). “Gardening”, “Literature” and “Music” are now available to allow Eccellio users to easily find content on these three topics.

“Our Eccellio community grows day-by-day. Everyday we receive several feedbacks from our Eccellio community. We take care of our users and we use their suggestions and requests to improve our services. For this reason we decided to add Gardening, Literature and Music in Eccellio Web”, said Ron Bernas, Chief Executive Officer of Eccellio.

Eccellio Web Miner (<http://www.eccellio.com>) is a faceting Search Engine that lets you easily find results using Google power. Eccellio is bringing to the Net community a revolution in how to perform searches through Internet. Searching in Eccellio is similar to Google but indeed the result is hugely more accurate: able to find more, writing less.

About Eccellio

Eccellio is an Internet company founded in 2008 that has its focus on improving end user experience in retrieving information on Internet. Eccellio is a Search Engine that brings a cool new feature, named “Faceted Classification”, that easily allows finding exactly what you are looking for. Eccellio uses Google database but it adds an extra level of classification that allows you to refine your search easily. End users don’t need to learn a complex syntax to execute searches. So Eccellio can be defined as Google++ or Google simplicity with one additional single-click. For more information:
